port of the assistant mine inspector, which was read and ordered spread upon the records, as follows:

Board of Supervisors, &c.: It is with considerable satisfaction I submit my second annual report to the gentlemen of the Board. There have been less fatal accidents and more general improvements in and around the mines this year than ever before in the same space of time. Though the summer of 1886 was the dullest the county has seen for years, yet several new fans were built, and some more are ordered, and new machinery to run the same. There is little, doubt that this satisfactory state of affairs is owing to the vigilance with which the inspectors have performed their duties. Operators, bosses and their subordinates are quick to rectify any derangements in the system of ventila. tion when they know the inspector may come any day to measure their air. In some instances we find a board off the air shaft, thereby allowing the air to return to the surface without going into the working part and not until I had measured their air and the foregoing, and they are numerous and mittee to settle with county officers.

Hints for Easter.

It is taken for granted that every mother in the land knows how to color eggs for Easter, but if by chance ignorance on this subject does exist, it is suggested that analine dyes—for sale in all drug stores at small cost-be resorted to. Directions come with these dyes. In localities where even these may not be obtained the eggs may be decorated by tying up in bits of colored calico and boiling until the color has left the calico to make its impress on the eggs.
